MISSIONARY UPDATE

DAN & TOSHIKO LOCKWOOD
INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS, INC.

Hello, Alderwood Family! Greetings from Eugene, Oregon.

It has been many months since Chinese scholars left the University of Oregon, and at least three of them have continued meeting with us weekly in Bible study via Zoom.

Although these three were not ready to trust their entire lives to Christ before they returned, they have been some of our most faithful attendees; and they have been most clear and vocal not only about things they're learning from the Word each week, but also about answered prayers and various "God-incidences," signs of His working in their midst. So please continue to pray for G, X and H, and another Chinese Oregon alum, L. Please pray for boldness and shrewdness in identifying themselves with Jesus. By God's grace, in December I (Dan) completed a Biola University master's degree in Christian Apologetics. "Apologetics?" you might ask, "What kind of program is that?!" © Apologetics is a "ready defense" of the Christian faith through good theology, reason and evidence. It is also: "Helping believers think and helping thinkers believe." For the last several weeks, I have been meeting with a group of deep thinkers, two of whom are adherents of eastern religions. We discuss articles and essays, even some of our own writings. Please pray especially for one member from India who, after reading one of my essays, now wants to study the gospels.

We are encouraged that our local church in Eugene wants to do more to bless international students and scholars. Our ISI team has been organizing small events, and continuing weekly shopping shuttles and Bible studies. But the significant drop in UO's international student population (from 2,500 to around 1,000) has been discouraging. And Covid has not only compelled an excess of caution, it has also created an excess hunger for in-person meetings. Thank you for your prayers for our faith, perseverance and creativity. We cherish your partnership!
