MISSIONARY UPDATE

DAN & TOSHIKO LOCKWOOD
INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS, INC.

Greetings, Alderwood Church Family! Thank you for your prayers for us at this busy time of year. Because the University of Oregon (like UW) starts so late, meeting new students before the rains start can be especially challenging.

But our team participated in a start-of-school, kick-off event this week called FLOCK Party (because Ducks flock together. Get it?). Honestly, we were pessimistic, because the university gave only one hour for close to 200 student groups to grab the attention of new students, and because the event focuses on undergraduates, especially freshmen, while our activities typically attract grad students. We were pleasantly surprised, however, by how it went; at least 20 international students stopped at our table, and many other clubs offered to share our information with their international student members.

This is an exciting year because our second daughter, Malaya, is a UO freshman! We appreciate your prayers for her, that she will always seek God's guidance, and find good Christian fellowship. (Of course it'd also be great to see her participate in our ministry! 😊) Majoring in human physiology, she may also minor in music.

Recent weeks have been filled with moving South Asian friends and their furniture into new apartments, and teaching a few of them to drive. One student sees our drives as times to also learn about Christianity, as she recently married into an American Christian family. Unfortunately, discussing Christianity makes her driving distracted and dangerous. My coworker suggests I require an hour Bible lesson for every hour driven.

Two big recent highlights include a young woman from a majority Muslim country who trusted Christ and was baptized, and Filip, a charismatic Romanian grad student who completed a Great Commission training program this summer, and is on fire for reaching his peers for Christ. Thank you for your precious partnership!
